

The purpose, as I see it, of this deregulation is simply to make the brainwashing of the population cheaper as now they have an extremely corporate slant on all the information they pass on as news and opinions. What we need is real balance in the news, that can only come from a public source paid by the public.